Business After Hours

New Dimensions FCU to Host Business After Hours/ Grand Reopening for Business members
November 17, 2021, 5:30-7 p.m.
94 Silver Street, Waterville

At NDFCU, it supports community and small businesses by directing, guiding, and riding out the waves with its business members. Working with its business members provides them with secure and viable solutions so that they can thrive. NDFCU offers products and services that assist its members with understanding the impact their daily decisions have on their lives and how making small changes or improving their financial knowledge will provide a sustainable and prosperous future.

NDFCU believes in the importance of having the right innovative tools and resources for educating the community and helping them achieve financial stability. One way this is done is by coaching members on real-world budgeting practices, debt elimination strategies, and providing usable resources and options. When members make an appointment with a Financial Education Coordinator, they walk away with top-notch financial best practices that are actionable and easily digestible. To top it off, New Dimensions partners with GreenPath Financial Services, which further provides reliable financial guidance, insight, and resources for its members.

New Dimensions' business products include checking and savings accounts, loans, credit cards, and business services such as payroll processing, merchant processing, and more, ensuring it has affordable options and solutions for every business request.
